WHICH PARTY LEADS?

Mr. Bryan, in one of his speeches for Wilson, significantly asks: "Where was Mr. Hughes when the Democratic party led the fight for popular election of Senators? Where was Mr. Hughes when the Democrats led the fight for an income tax? Where was he when the Democrats led the fight for currency reform and for anti-trust legislation?"

And then in answer to Mr. Hughes' assertion that the Democratic party had for twenty years been a party of opposition to progress Mr. Bryan adds: "For twenty years the Democratic party has led the reform forces of the nation and the Republican leaders have done their best to prevent reforms. Mr. Hughes has not been in a Rip Van Winkle sleep either, he has been on the side of Wall Street all the time."

DON'T LET THEM FOOL YOU

One wing of the Republican press, which still has Progressive leanings, is assuring its Progressive readers that "in supporting Mr. Hughes the voter does not have to indorse the Republican party."

If not what does he have to indorse? Will these papers kindly tell us how can any voter indorse Mr. Hughes without indorsing Penrose for chairman of the finance committee? Or how it can be done without sanctioning Joseph W. Fordney for chairman of the house committee on ways and means? Or without standing for Smoot, Lodge, Gallinger, Weeks, and other standpatters who control the Republican party in Congress.

Mrs. Thomas Roley
Mrs. Thomas Roley died at her home in Pittsburgh last week. She was formerly Miss Pearl Huzzard of this place. She is survived by one daughter and two sons.

After all the complaints of Candidate Hughes and the railroad companies about "confiscation of property," the highest price of the year in railroad stocks was during the 30 days following the passage of the 8-hour law.

EVERETT PRESS FLOPPED TO PENROSE

E. R. Smith, Republican Candidate for the Legislature John M. Clegg, Editor of Everett Press and M. D. Barnardollar, State Committeeman, of the Defunct Washington Party Form a Tyne Treaty with Harry C. James, the Penrose County Chairman. Progressives Sold Out. Should Know the True Status of Their Plight.

The Everett Press is trying to whitewash its skirts for its actions in flopping to the support of Penrose in this campaign by placing the failure at fusion on the Democratic candidate. This editor sees a ghost at a distance, lurking around to haunt him for changing his spots so often. When he came to Everett he was a Democrat, then his coat changed to a Progressive and now it has turned again to a true blue, dyed in the wool Republican, a Penrose Republican at that. In fact this editor has turned over so often that his whereabouts is unknown four days at a time.

This spasmodic political "spuke" has a candidate in the name of Howard Cessna, of the party he has just deserted but he goes fit to blame his traitorous act or his desertion of his one time party on the Democratic party but long ago, ever since himself, M. D. Barnardollar, Edgar R. Smith and Harry C. James sojourned together down to Robinsonville in Monroe township to a Band picnic he has acted "kinder" queer and has been supporting Penrose ever since. That picnic has been made famous not because of the great speeches which were made but because of the "Oh, Be-Joyful" that gurgled from the bottles hidden in Smith's car. How these bottles got there, we don't know, but if the people speak the truth in that community, there was whiskey in that car and the Everett Press can be stacked full of oaths from top to bottom to the contrary, but we have it from the lips of those who drank it and those who were invited to drink it.

This car load of political junk may have thought they were going down among the "Dumb Hundred" and they could do as they pleased but there are just as smart people in that section as in any other section and a great deal more critical when it comes to principles.

Declaring for Local Option and hauling whiskey around to make people drunk is too inconsistent for any sense. Then we would like to know what kind of Local Option, County or District? Let the Everett Press find out if it can force a declaration of any kind. Who can tell whether he will stand or whether he will flop judging by his acts?

We said that dating from that picnic Clegg decided to flop to Penrose. Of course he threw a dagger into any fusion movement immediately after the primary by declaring the "leaders of the Democratic party would not let Barkman withdraw" when he didn't know any more about it than the man in the moon or Simple Simon. That article put a damper on fusion and it knocks at his own door. Then his early support of Smith way back in August or September, a month or more before the date for withdrawal of candidates was sufficient evidence that he was going to desert the cradle that rocked him. It's a complete case of political treachery which the true Progressives ought to know and an impartial reflection will convince any one of the fact.

Howard Cessna is the Washington party candidate and deserves the support of the Everett Press, but the Editor broke the ties long ago so that no matter what happened, he would not have to do it. He had deserted the ship, surrendered his principles, knuckled to the Penrose bunch that of Penrose in every particular. Can any position be more humiliating?

So far as the Judicial contest last year was concerned, every body knows we supported Mr. Bailey both in the primary and general election though the slippery editor seems to think we antagonized Mr. Bailey in the primary and supported him in the general election. Deliver us from ever being two faced like that without just cause. We never desert the ship as he has thrice. If it sinks, we sink. If it sails we sail with it.

The Progressives of Bedford County will be astonished to learn that Howard Cessna was approached by a leading Progressive of Bedford with the offer from the Penrose bunch that if he withdrew as a legislative candidate he would be presented with a signed agreement that he would be the Penrose candidate for the State Senate in 1918.

The Progressive cause was sold out in the nation and State and they reason that they will sell it out in the county, since selling is so much in the air, but Mr. Cessna could not be handled, but the Everett Press could and was. Just what compensation the Press and the middle man who approached Mr. Cessna got is not known but there was some stipulation in promises or otherwise and the true Progressive ought to know this.

How can you deal with such traitors as that? Who could be assured that in the end the Democratic party or the Progressive party would have a candidate when some of the leaders are so susceptible to change? Suppose the Democrats would have vacated the legislative place and placed another man on it and through the influence which seemed to be exerted for Smith on the last day and the last hour the substitute would have sold out and withdrawn, what could have been done? Nothing.

William Jennings Bryan Coming to Bedford Saturday Next

Hon. Wm. J. Bryan is coming into the district October 20 and will spend that day and the next speaking in behalf of President Wilson and a Democratic congress.

He will arrive at Cresson from the west early the morning of the 20th; and it has been tentatively planned that he shall be taken over as much territory as possible by automobile.

Leaving Altoona early the morning of the 21st, he will come to Bedford, starting from here at 10:30 a. m., and reaching Everett at 10:45; Loysburg, 11:30; Roaring Spring, 12:45; Hollidaysburg, 1:45; Duncansville, 2:15; Bellwood, 3:15; Tyrone, 4:45; Altoona, 5:45.

All this depends on weather conditions. Mr. Bryan will speak briefly at each place, large night meetings to be held in Johnstown October 20 and Altoona October 21. The proposed automobile tour is in conformity with his suggestions.

It is a particular honor to have Mr. Bryan come to us under the circumstances. He is in tremendous demand; and it is only at his own urgent solicitation that the national committee permitted him to devote two whole days in this district.

It is suggested that prominent Democrats in each county shall be prepared to accompany the distinguished visitor. It is the intention of Congressman Bailey to have his car at Mr. Bryan's convenience in this county. It is believed that a number of cars will join in the tour as it proceeds.

Mr. Bryan is doing splendid service for President Wilson in the west. His presentation of administrative achievements is masterly. His analysis of the Hughes candidacy leaves it too poor even for a hidebound reactionary to do it reverence.

Men of all parties are invited to hear the greatest living orator.

And the Democrats, Progressives, Local Optionists and all would have had to write their candidates name on the ticket. We have waited until the last day for withdrawals to see how effective these Penrose influences would be and we must heartily congratulate Mr. Cessna on the fact that he has stood the test. These are some of the facts of the closed-door manipulation wholesome to the rank and file of Democrats and Progressives alike.

A New Branch Bank

On next Saturday, October 28th, the Bedford County Trust Co., will open its branch bank at Altoona, Pa. The fixtures are now being installed and will in every way be a modern bank. The officers and directors have not yet appointed a manager to take charge, but will make this appointment and make such announcement shortly. This new bank will supply a long felt need for that part of Bedford County and its success is practically assured. This branch bank is another forward move for the better accommodation for this new institution fast developing patronage. The date of this opening is the first anniversary of the opening for business of the Bedford County Trust Co., which this week held the total resources of $300,000 a most remarkable record for a year-old bank. The aggressive management of this institution is to be congratulated upon its successful career.

Stockens—Harclerode

At the Methodist Episcopal parsonage, Wolfisburg, Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Mr. Gilbert E. Stockens, of Point, Pa., and Miss Ella G. The happy couple left on a 4:14 train on a wedding trip in the western part of the state. Their many friends wish them a long and prosperous life.

Bedford Piano Club Holds First Meeting of Season 1916-17

A most interesting meeting of the Bedford Piano Club was held at the home of the president, Miss Cora McGirr, on Wednesday afternoon, October 18. The election of officers for the season of 1916-17 resulted as follows: (President, Miss Cora McGirr; Vice President, Miss Cora McGirr; Secretary, Miss Elizabeth Metzger; Treasurer, Mrs. George T. Jacobs; Executive Committee, L. D. Shuck, Mrs. Floyd Murdoch, Margaret Stiver, Mrs. Margaret Stiver; Andante, Beethoven, Mrs. Floyd Murdoch; Serenade Florentine, Godard, Miss Metzger; "Clippings" Club Journal, Miss L. D. Shuck. The Piano Club Season opens up most promisingly. A program of high standard has been arranged for the entire season and Club members are working with a will.

Where State Roads Are Needed to Serve the People

No special study of State Roads has been made on our part, as the Republican candidate states, he has made, nor do we see that it is necessary for any special study unless there is some expectation of taking up the construction. The only thing that a member of the legislature can do is to recommend roads and then persistently push the claim until it is flatly refused or the road is granted. "Mr. Smith has made a study of the State Highways question and is able in every way to promote a more equitable plan of road building," is a statement taken from the Everett Press and is too vague for comprehension. Does he expect to land a job in the Highway Department if elected to the legislature and help build roads? Or does he expect to dictate to the state's engineers how to build roads, or issue orders to road superintendents as to the construction? What does he mean by "a more equitable plan of road building?"

The most important thing is to have as a member of the legislature some one who knows the county thoroughly and knows where state roads should go to serve the people. As to the study of construction, let that be to the state's employees for that purpose.

One of the most needed state roads and one which would serve the most people would be to pass through Menchtown in West Providence, Mattie in East Providence, through Robinsonville in Monroe township. Another would serve a host of people passing down by Pine Ridge in Monroe through Purcell in Mann. Another through Graceville in East Providence from the pike on Morgart's forking at Raceville and going to Broad Top and Raysbill. Heavy grades would have to be avoided on these three proposals but these can be eliminated by a careful survey. Then there should be a state road leading from Everett to the Maryland line by way of Chaneyville. A state road should be constructed from Loysburg Gap to Cross Roads school house in Hopewell township and from Texas school house around by Salemville to Long's school house in Bloomfield. The state should supervise the maintenance of a road from Osterburg or Imier to Pavla and to Lovely also from Schellburg to New Buena Vista and West End. Dutch Corner in Bedford township needs an improved state road. These recommendations would serve people who seldom ever get to use a state road.

If elected to the legislature I will push these recommendations and persistently urge the state to take over these stretches of roads. If we can accomplish this we will have a system of state roads in Bedford County which will accommodate nearly all its people.

The Du Pont Powder works in Woodbury, New Jersey issued orders to the effect that Wilson buttons are to be barred in works. Workmen fear that a discharge is liable if they refuse to obey orders. Coercion is the moneyed interests only salvation. If they can force the laboring men to submission, they have some chance. They have none without it.

LADIES GIVEN FINE TRIP

Business Staff of Bell Telephone Company Enjoy Motor Jaunt to Bedford

The ladies of the commercial department of the Bell Telephone company enjoyed a delightful day Sunday as the guests of Charlie Brown of Hollidaysburg. Mr. Brown took the ladies in his fine new touring car to Bedford, via Roaring Spring, Loysburg Gap and Everett. The party left Hollidaysburg about 1 o'clock and a delicious lunch was secured at Bedford.

The return trip was made by way of Claysburg, East Freedom and Newry, and the party arrived about 8 o'clock. In the party were Misses Nicodemus, Kirsner, Crosthwaite, Wilson and Miller. It was one of the most delightful trips the ladies ever experienced, as the woods and mountains were at their best, dressed in their gaudy autumn foliage. The ladies are very thankful to Mr. Brown for being so capable and entertaining a host.

Congressman Bailey is particularly pleased with endorsements of his record on labor legislation that are being given by various bodies of organized labor. Recently the Nanty-Glo local of United Mine Workers endorsed him for re-election; and endorsement of him has also come from the American Federation of Labor and the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. Congressman Bailey has quite generally taken care of the interests of labor in the house and his friends assert that he will have the almost solid support of workmen at the coming election.

Attempt Made to Rob Feed Store

On Tuesday night thieves pried open the lock on the door of Prosser's Feed Store and succeeded in gaining entrance. They then attempted to open the safe by applying nitro-glycerine to it. The explosion which followed was so powerful that the safe door was twisted and hurled through the window into the street, the large plate glass window being shattered into small particles. A piece of iron was thrown through the wall into People's meat market and through the plate glass window into the opposite wall. Small pieces of iron were found lying all-around. THE GREAT DRIVE OF THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE IN PENNSYLVANIA

By Allen Sutherland

With resolved hearts and with a firm belief not only in the righteousness of their cause but also in its ultimate and not far-distant triumph, the friends of the Anti-Saloon League are going forward in their great drive to place Pennsylvania among the white states on the temperance map of our country. No one of intelligence doubts but that the splendid campaigning which is now being waged for temperance throughout the state will have far-reaching results along educational, political and moral lines. Slowly but surely the lines are being drawn, and in the ever-narrowing cordon the whiskey interest may read its sure doom, and rum-enslaved men may rejoice to see the day of their freedom from its thralldom approaching.

One of the most prominent speakers who is now touring the state in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League is Ex-Governor Malcom R. Patterson, of Tennessee. He is a noble example of what hundreds of men may become. Time was when he favored the liquor interests; but when God, in 1913, gave him a new vision of life and its meaning, he at once began to devote his splendid mental powers and influence to the cause of righteousness, and now he is doing his utmost to bring to a successful issue the war against rum. He is an unusually popular speaker and is being listened to by large numbers in important centres of the state.

Catch-my-Pal Patterson, of Belfast Ireland, the world-famous and successful Scotch-Irishman, is also giving himself to this great work in Pennsylvania, and with irresistible logic is seeking to convince men that liquor is one of their greatest foes. Pity 'tis that any one should have to listen to another to be convinced on a proposition so self-evident!

Mr. Patterson is said to have much of the matchless fervor that distinguished the great apostle of temperance, John B. Gough; and in this connection it may be well to keep in mind the noble sentence which trembled on the lips of Mr. Gough when he tottered to his death when speaking in the First Presbyterian church, Frankford, Pa., a few years ago: "Young men, make your record clean!"

Other speakers of signal ability, who are now speaking in different parts of the state in the interests of the Anti-Saloon League, are Hon. Wayne B. Wheeler, national attorney of the Anti-Saloon League; Rev. Louis Albert Banks; Dr. George W. Morrow and Richard P. Hobbs.

Rev. Charles Fayette Swift, D. D., is the recently elected Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of this state, and he brings to his new position, large experience and a binding devotion to the cause of temperance. Under his management the work will take no backward steps, but the rather will be given a tremendous impetus in the right direction. His headquarters will be in Philadelphia. He is an able leader, a tireless worker and should receive the loyal support of all good men.

Other changes in the working force are, J. Day Brownlee, Jr., who has been elected attorney of the League and will devote all his time to its interests; and Rev. B. L. Scott, of Erie, who succeeds to the position of Superintendent of the Pittsburgh District made vacant by the election of Dr. Swift to his present important position.

Governor Brumbaugh says: "I am as strongly for local option now as I ever was. Let the will of the people in the counties be the law in the matter. We ought, as a solemn duty, to take the issuing of licenses from the judiciary. It is not a judicial function in any essential sense. Let us join in an earnest, honest effort to secure a local option law, and to do all we honorably can to help elect men to the next assembly who will favor such a law."

One of the foremost chemists and electrical experts of the world, L. H. Backeland, a member of the Naval Advisory Board, writes in the November Scribner, on a subject of great importance to the nation. The title of the article is "Renewing the Earth from the Air," the way of taking from the air the nitrogen necessary for all future uses. It is one of the great romances of modern science.

WALL ST. WOMEN TOUR FOR HUGHES

"Silk-Stocking, Poodle Dog Brigade" Carries Doctrine of Plutocracy to West.

MAKES SUFFRAGE PRETENSE

Many of Party on Train de Luxe Repudiated by Leaders of Woman's Movement—Paid Speakers to Do Talking.

Wall street is too busy harvesting Democratic prosperity to go campaigning—but it is sending its womenfolk. The greatest aggregation of wealth and social distinction ever represented by furs, feathers and femininity left New York on Monday, Oct. 2, by special train de luxe, to tell their sisters of the West how to vote. Many of these women, claiming to be equal suffrage workers, are repudiated by leaders of that movement.

Stopping at Albany, Utica and Syracuse on their first day, the itinerary takes the women's campaign train through the principal cities of the north route across the continent and brings them back through Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky, a tour lasting until November 4. The expenses are paid by and the tour is conducted under the auspices of the Women's Committee of the National Hughes Alliance.

"Women's Hughes Alliance" sounds innocent and harmless enough, until one examines the personnel of the organization and discovers that it represents the feminine side of the organized and Morganized wealth of Wall street.

The treasurer of the Women's Committee is Mrs. Mary Harriman Ramsey, daughter of the late Edward H. Harriman, railroad magnate and "practical man" of the days when Theodore Roosevelt received campaign funds from the "crooked business" which political exigency later led him to denounce.

These Provide the Funds.

With Mrs. Ramsey on the Finance Committee are Mrs. Robert Bacon, whose husband was translated from the House of Morgan to be Roosevelt's Assistant Secretary of State, and later Ambassador to France; Mrs. Bernard H. Ridder, wife of one of the proprietors of the New York Staats Zeitung, leader of the German propaganda against President Wilson; Mrs. W. H. Crocker, widow of the California mining and railroad multimillionaire.

On the Train Fund Committee are Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, of the Smelter Trust; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, representing inherited millions of railroad capital; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; Miss Maude Wetmore, of the wealthy Rhode Island family of that name; Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, whose husband is Nicholas Longworth, in Congress from Ohio.

Many of the junketers who are going along to do the speaking are professional women, who could not afford the luxury of special trains nor the diversion of campaigning without pay. But back of them, with their money and the glamour that attaches to their gilded names, are the women standing as financial sponsors for this greatest society show that ever was put on wheels.

Some of these wives and daughters of the super-rich will go along on this mission and with their presence, if not with their oratory, will warn the women of the west—who are already voters—that their country cannot be "saved" unless the women cast their vote for the candidate of plutocracy.

The letterhead from Republican campaign headquarters gives only the names of the Train Fund Committee as above, but besides them there is an additional committee in charge of this feature of the Hughes campaign.

Others in on the Junket.

On this committee appear in addition to the foregoing members, the following:

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, whose husband is a Philadelphia partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Mrs. H. O. Havenmeyer, wife of the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil magnate; Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst, owner of millions in American mines and Mexican plantations; Mrs. O. H. Belmont, who has undertaken to raise half a million dollars to defeat President Wilson; Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the multimillionaire mining man; Mrs. Mary Dreier, New York society leader, of a wealthy German family with strong antipathy to President Wilson.

A leading attorney of Pocatello, Idaho, writing to the Democratic National Committee, says:

"I read with deep interest of the preparations of the Silk Stocking, Poodle Dog, Feminine Brigade that is soon to start on its million dollar special across the continent to awaken the enthusiasm of the mothers and women who carry the burden of our national greatness on their shoulders, to vote for their idol, Hughes.

"It will not be difficult for the rank and file of the common people to see the hypocrisy of this movement."

HUGHES HAND IN GLOVE WITH OLD GUARD BOSSES

Men He Once Swore to Exterminate Are Now His Accepted Advisers

As the campaign approaches its crisis, events further demonstrate the close affiliation of Candidate Hughes with the old-time reactionary Republican bosses. The outstanding feature of Hughes's second speaking tour was the conspicuous part given the standpat leaders in New York and Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania Boies Penrose, the standpat United States Senator, who with other members of the Old Guard was the special object of Theodore Roosevelt's denunciation in 1912, was in full control, appearing as point speaker with Mr. Hughes.

Mr. Hughes began his tour for New York State at the Conference of Republicans at Saratoga, where it developed beyond question that the Old Guard bosses of New York, notably Mr. Barnes of Albany, Mr. Henricks of Syracuse, and Mr. Aldridge of Rochester, had demonstrated their thorough control in their own particular bailiwicks in the recent Republican primaries and now dominated the Hughes candidacy in New York.

Independents, Republicans and Progressives point to these incidents as marking the surrender of Mr. Hughes to the very elements which when he sought the votes of New York's electorate as a candidate for Governor he condemned.

Independent voters who were led to support Mr. Hughes for Governor are also recalling the fact that although Mr. Hughes as a candidate for Governor promised to exterminate the political boss from the Republican Party in New York, he resigned.

ELECTION NO MENACE TO PROSPERITY WAVE

Republican Bankers Says America's Boom Will Continue—Records Smashed on Pacific Coast

The volume of business that already is swamping many Chicago houses will be increased after the presidential election no matter who is elected, according to a circular issued last week by the National City Bank, of Chicago, of which David R. Forgan is president. Forgan is a Republican and an ultra-conservative in financial and political matters. The bank has discovered that the country is so busy and prosperous that it has had little time to talk politics.

"The American people generally are enjoying prosperity upon a scale which the country has never seen before," is one declaration in the statement.

"It is probable that a great deal of increased business will be given out after the election is held. This will apply, whatever the outcome of the election itself, since in presidential years a great volume of business is usually held back until the contest has been decided. The campaign itself, however, has had almost no effect upon general business this year. It has been conducted in an orderly way and without the excitement which often unsettles general trade at a time when a president is being voted for."

"All previous records for total resources for the San Francisco branch of the Federal Reserve Bank," said the San Francisco "Journal of Commerce," September 23rd, "have been smashed by the statement issued today as for the close of business for the week ending last night. The total resources in the statement issued today are $34,942,000. This is an increase of $432,000 over last week and of almost a million over the week before."

Our readers are aware that we think President Wilson was right in his handling of the railway situation. Whether he was right or wrong after contrasting Hughes and Wilson's speeches on the subject, many people will feel they would rather trust the country's welfare to a man like Wilson wrong than to a man like Hughes right.—Evansville Courier.

PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN'S WOODROW WILSON LEAGUE

To the Women of Pennsylvania:—

A group of women who believe that the re-election of President Wilson is important for the future of this country have organized the Pennsylvania Women's Woodrow Wilson League, with headquarters, at 1339 Walnut Street, Philadelphia. The purpose of the League is to enroll women, both Democratic and Independent, who endorse the present administration and will work for the re-election of President Wilson and a Congress to support him. It is important that in the present crisis the women should actively express their belief in the President's policies.

Those who are in sympathy with the objects of this organization are urged to join the League and induce their friends to join. It is desired that groups be formed in every voting precinct in Pennsylvania, that the sentiment for the present administration may be increased. Literature will be sent on application. Contributions of money for the campaign may be sent to the headquarters.

Mary McMurtrie, Chairman,

There is an article in the November Scribner by Jesse Lynch Williams that will make pleasant reading for every one who loves these crisp autumn days, whether they go hunting or just wander along through the woods. "Good Hunting," is all about the sport of good shooting, going after game with an old friend and two companionable and useful dogs. The place Mr. Williams describes is a beautiful old country estate somewhere on Long Island. Frost's pictures are full of the very spirit of the text.

Evidently the author is not in the nature-fakir class.

"Not that we are of that modern breed of sportsmen who pursue game with the camera. We were trained in the old school. We have not learned to interest ourselves in the introspection of birdies and bunnies, nor to be thrilled by the left hind footprint of the skunk. We are still so incompletely evolved from savage ancestry as to love the chase more than most of the joys of life—and for this I offer no apology and ask no palliation."

CONTAMINATING HANDS

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D. LL. D. Commissioner of Health.

The majority of the milk consumed in urban communities is delivered in bottles. Most of these are of the familiar type with a flanged top sealed with a paper disc. Sometime between midnight and the morning, tens of thousands of these bottles are delivered upon door steps and porches.

To handle one of these bottles with ease one naturally picks it up by the top, holding on to the flange or rim. This is the way the delivery man picks them out of the crate and the way they are put into the ice box.

When the milk is served the paper cap is lifted with the fingers or pried out with some pointed utensil and the milk poured out. If you have ever performed this operation and most people have, you know that the milk flows over the bottle rim that has been badly exposed to the often dirty hands of the various persons who handle the bottle before it is delivered to the consumer.

This may seem a small matter but in truth no easier method of contaminating the individual milk supply could be acquired.

Before the milk is poured the bottle tops should be scalded to insure cleanliness and safety from contamination.

Owing to the fact that the present milk bottle is used in houses of the sick as well as in those of the healthy and often not thoroughly cleansed or disinfected, it will have to give way in the near future to the destructible bottle that will never be used the second time.

Modern Ideas Are Crushing Mother's Traditions

The November Woman's Home Companion prints a story in which the writer says:

"I don't know why we bring them up as we do. Why do mother's suppose their daughters feel so differently from the way they themselves felt when they were young?"

"This is the proposition we give them: 'Your most sacred duty is making a home. Your holy vocation is that of wife and mother—but,' we go on, 'you must never raise your little finger in finding the man who can help you make this home.'"

INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL
LESSON(By E. O. SELLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 22

PAUL'S DEFENSE BEFORE
AGRIPPA.LESSON TEXT—Acts 26 (vv. 1-34-32).
GOLDEN TEXT—I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.—Acts 26:19.

It is possible to use the Bible either as a music box or a telephone. We should let it speak the words of the Lord Jesus to us and our pupils. This lesson occurred probably A. D. 59, perhaps in August, the day after last Sunday's lesson. This was the same hall where Agrippa had heard the people calling him a god (Acts 12). Paul, the center of all interest, is chained to his Roman guardians. The prisoner has been vehemently accused as one worthy of death and had appealed to Caesar, but Festus, not being well acquainted with Jewish laws and customs, could not make any definite charge against him before the Roman court. Hence he turns him over to Agrippa, who was well acquainted with matters of Jewish law.

I. Paul, the Preacher (vv. 1-23). This was one of the great occasions in the life of this great man. Paul was preaching to a king and a woman of great influence (a sermon which little changed their lives evidently), and also to the coming ages. This king and queen were wedded to their infamy. God had in mind on that day an audience in comparison with which that which Paul saw faded into oblivion. Notice his argument. (1) He begins with his own experience. In these verses there are over forty personal pronouns.

Men do not need so much light as they do need heat, and Paul was speaking out of the hot throbs of his personal experience. Paul stood before them a living miracle, an incarnate argument. We might tremble at the doctrine of the resurrection. He knew it was a marvelous thing that God should raise the dead, but that change had been wrought in him which was equivalent to the miracle of raising one from the grave.

Paul's plea was for the Roman as well as the Jew. Considering his personal testimony, he declares that he is a true Jew of the strictest sect (vv. 4-8), and as such he lived in the "hope of the promise" as predicted by Isaiah and Daniel. That promise has been fulfilled in Jesus, the crucified, who rose again from the dead, and Paul adds, "I have seen him, for which hope's sake, King Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews." (2) (vv. 9-15) Paul tells the audience that he, himself, was once a zealous persecutor of the Christians, more so than those who are now persecuting him, "being exceedingly mad against them." He then relates his Damascus journey and the conversation held on the road with the risen Lord.

The gospel Paul preached was to lead men into the kingdom of God that they might receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those who were fitted for that inheritance, who were the sanctified. For this cause the Jews went about to kill him.

II. Agrippa, the Doubter (vv. 24-32). Five ways are suggested as to the reception of Paul's message. The high priest's way was to hate him and oppose. Felix's way was "go thy way this time. When I have a more convenient season I will call." Festus' way (vv. 24-26) was to charge Paul with madness. Much learning (literally, many writings) was turning him mad, making him a lunatic, a dreamer, one who lived in the atmosphere of wild imaginings. Paul's reply was not harsh. "Most noble Festus" (Am. R.) "I am not mad, but speak words of soberness," words of eternal life and spiritual life (of sound sense) that were true and earnest. Paul thereupon appeals to King Agrippa to confirm his statements (v. 2-6). The crazy man is he who lives for this world rather than for eternity. The devil has cheated many a man out of eternal life by the method which Festus followed. He has also cheated many a Christian out of the larger life in the same way. Paul's appeal to Agrippa (vv. 27-29) is very suggestive.

Some people believe that the contents of the prophecies are of no present day value, and some are trying to break their force. Some declare they cannot be true, yet these prophecies are the ones that declare that "Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God." The literal translation of Agrippa's answer is, "In a little thou persuadest me to be a Christian." It is said that Agrippa said this in sarcasm, but, like many another attempted jest, it revealed the real state of the heart.

Agrippa saw the cost of further consideration of the claims of Christ and was unwilling to pay the price (vv. 30-32). Thus Agrippa's soul was lost, and yet he was within one step of eternal life. Paul with great dignity took advantage of Agrippa's ambiguous expression, and said: "I would to God that whether with little or with much, not only thou but also all that hear me this day might become such as I am except (raising his fettered hands) these bonds." (Am. R.). Paul was willing and glad to suffer anything for the sake of Jesus Christ, his Lord (II Cor. 12-10).

Washington, D. C., Oct. 9.—(Special) A hearing of great importance to the farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania will be held at Harrisburg on October 17th, by the Federal Farm Loan Board.

This hearing is for the purpose of getting information to guide the Board in determining the boundaries of the twelve Federal Land Bank districts into which the country is to be divided for the administration of the new rural credits law, known as the Federal Farm Loan Act. The session will be held in the federal building at Harrisburg.

The members of the Federal Farm Loan Board who will conduct this hearing are Hon. William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury; George W. Norris, Farm Loan Commissioner; Herbert Quick, Captain W. S. A. Smith, and Charles E. Lobdell.

The Board has issued an invitation to all farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania to attend this hearing to get information about the operation of the Farm Loan Act, and to furnish the Board with information about the farm loan needs of the state. It has also asked interested cities to present their claims for the location of one of the twelve Federal Land Banks.

Farmers will be asked to give information regarding the prevailing rates of interest on first mortgage loans; the difficulty of getting extensions; the development of farms as affected by credit; farm tenantry as affected by the ability of tenants to borrow; and any other fact that will give the Board an understanding of the farm needs of the state.

The new Federal Farm Loan Act provides a way for the farmer or prospective farmer to borrow money on long time mortgages at actual cost. The government provides the machinery for assembling capital to be loaned to farm owners or prospective farm owners. The loans may run up to 50 per cent. of the value of the land used as security and 20 per cent. of the value of the improvements. The loans will be made at a low rate of interest not yet determined, but it will be less than 6 per cent. Provision is made for the borrower to pay off the debt, interest, and principal through periods of from five to forty years, at his own option. The legislation is expected to prove a great boon to those sections of the country where farm development has been retarded because of high interest rates, and it is predicted that it will tend to make agricultural prosperity permanent and uniform, stabilize and equalize interest rates, and greatly improve the condition of the farmer.

The nation-wide interest in the provision of the bill is indicated by the fact that more than 100,000 inquiries have come to the Treasury Department for information about it. Secretary McAdoo predicts that the banks will be established and ready to make loans early in 1917.

A bad back isn't a bad thing if it serves as a warning of hidden kidney disorders. Kidney diseases are frightfully common today. We over-do so much. We don't give the kidneys a chance to rest up, and while a bad back, some urinary disorder, and occasional dizzy spell or a persistent headache may be the only outward sign, the kidney trouble that is behind it all may be overlooked or neglected. Put your signs to use. Take them as warnings. Fight off kidney weakness. It takes only a slight kidney disorder to start a case of fatal Bright's disease, from which 100,000 people die in the United States every year. Prompt treatment at first—that's all that's necessary to keep kidney weakness from turning into gravel, dropsy, gout, heart trouble or Bright's. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the oldest, the most widely used, the best-recommended Kidney Pills. Forty thousand Americans recommend them publicly. Here's one Bedford case.

Miss Susie Fletcher, 113 W. Penn St., Bedford, says: "I suffered from a severe case of kidney complaint. I had heavy, dull aches in my back and side, so that I was unable to bend over or lift. These troubles bothered me more severely when I caught a cold. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Dull's Drug Store, and soon got relief."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Miss Fletcher had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

This Woman Tells How She Lost Forty-eight Pounds

If you want to reduce, read the confession of a fat woman in the November Woman's Home Companion who says:

"Now, I shall, as simply as possible, relate how I reduced from one hundred and ninety-three and one-half pounds to one hundred and forty-five pounds in less than six months. Whether along scientific lines or not, the overwhelming fact remains—I am slender. And this is what I did to accomplish it:

"To make it easier for myself at first, I banished as many nonessential foods from my table as possible. Until I had a sure mental grip on myself, I avoided temptation.

"Conspicuous by their absence were pastries, ice cream, preserves, rich gravies and such foods. I dearly loved them, and they were, I admit hard at first to abandon."

SPECIAL OFFER

BEDFORD GAZETTE FOR $1.00

We are making a special offer of $1.00 for the Bedford Gazette for one year during the Presidential campaign. The offer lasts until November 7th, next and applies to all who subscribe for a year in advance. This does not apply to subscriptions in arrears but applies to all subscriptions due from the first of August, 1916, provided the subscription is paid before November 7th.

Last week the Everett Press and Everett Republican contained what on its face is a self confession of an act of guilt on the part of one of Monroe's citizens. The confession will case his mind some we do not doubt though our article did not mention any names and no names were given out. We never talked to "Uncle Dave" on the subject.

Our article of August the 10th, is this:

Down in Monroe township there is a bright little girl—and Monroe has many of them—who has an ambition to make her own way in the world. Last year she passed a teachers' examination but was too young to teach. This year she was old enough to teach and was successful in passing the examination improving the marks of the previous year materially. This little girl of eighteen extremely desirous of taking the burden of her maintenance from the overburdened shoulders of her parents and desirous not only of earning her own maintenance but possibly of putting some earnings aside to help her poor parents maintain her own little brothers and sisters and cheering them sometime at a Christmas or Thanksgiving feast and has worked hard for two years and has spent her time and money, both of her own and her parents, in an effort to equip herself for an educational enterprise and just when she has attained the goal she coveted a teachers' certificate, and thought the road was clear for her to get a school, a measly, narrow-minded jealous, lying neighbor steps forward and blocks her whole effort.

A man, we won't call him a gentleman, now passed the middle milestone of life, once a school teacher of Bedford County, so narrow, so jealous, so small, so indiscreet goes before the school board and informs the board that she shouldn't be given a school because she couldn't hear, was deaf—and maybe be added dumb—when there was nothing the matter at all with her hearing. This ambitious, intelligent girl in her "teens" must succumb in her plans to a grossly false accusation of a neighbor because he became jealous of her advancement when he should rejoice. Can anyone conceive of any more unmanly things, than that for a man of mature age, and we hope mind to falsely represent the facts concerning a girl of eighteen, who wants to get along in the world? We can't.

The article brought comments from all over Bedford county, because it revealed a condition existing in every school district and the article should have a wholesome effect.

Several people of the township wrote to ask who was meant, showing that not only one but several was hit.

The comment in the Everett Papers is a confession. Think of an unknown robber reading in the paper an article similar to his case and after pondering on the article he goes to the police headquarters and acknowledges that the circumstances fit him, that the whole thing is a lie, he didn't blow the safe, didn't take the money, no truth whatever in it, where do you think they would send him, to jail or Harrisburg? We didn't say who was responsible for the article, who was meant or who was guilty. The writer to the paper conjured the whole thing, mostly his conscience, and jumped at conclusions. He thinks he has sited it all out. If he were employed as a Pinkerton detective on a case and couldn't muster up any stronger evidence than he has in this, he would be discharged from the service in 10 minutes and penalized by a forfeiture of his back pay for lack of ability.

Business is better now than it ever was before in the United States but that is why some Republicans want a change

Of Special Interest to the Sick

Dr. Rhoads of Pittsburgh, specialist in chronic diseases, will be at the Grand Central Hotel, Bedford, Pa. on Thursday, Oct. 26, giving all who are sick an opportunity to consult this eminent specialist free of charge and get his advice and treatment right at your house. Dr. Rhoads has decided on this place by request of people living here, who otherwise would not have the chance to consult him. I realize that a visit to Pittsburgh to see me would be a hardship on the sick, therefore I come to you, believing that more good can be accomplished to see the largest number of sick. I ask therefore, all who need the service of an expert specialist in chronic and long-standing diseases to call and see me, consult me free of charge, get my advice, and if I find, after examining you, that I cannot cure you I will gladly tell you, and if your case is curable, which in 90 per cent, with my new treatment get well, I will accept your case. Remember, I make you no promises that I cannot do, my rule is to give you exactly what I agree.

WHAT I CURE

I cure Rheumatism in one month no matter how long standing. I give you relief at once. My treatment removes the cause of it, purifies the blood, relieves the kidneys at once.

I CURE Kidney and Bladder troubles. If you have Kidney troubles, pain in back, urine highly colored, dark sediment, pain along spine, weak back and headaches, come to me and let me show you why I can give you a cure—does the urine burn you, pass it too frequently, pains in bladder and prostrate gland? I can relieve you at once and give you a permanent cure. This is especially the trouble with middle-aged persons, and if neglected causes more distressing pains as you grow older. I cure this in a very short time.

DO YOU SUFFER FROM STOMACH OR LIVER TROUBLES?

I will cure you in one month, complete restoration to health. My treatment is different from the old pills and nauseous medicines you have been taking. It cures.

DR. F. A. RHODES

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Cure fails to cure.

Teddy would have seized the German ships. What would Hughes have done?

The Progressive independent voters carried Pennsylvania in 1912. In the year 1916 there will be another enormous independent vote cast by labor. If they remain loyal, Pennsylvania will endorse the Wilson idea for the 8-hour workday.

Candidate Hughes says: The Wilson era of prosperity is not permanent, but Charlie Schwab spills the political beans by going on and spending $100,000,000 for extensive improvements. Hughes is a candidate, while Schwab is America's leading and most successful manufacturer. Schwab knows what he is doing and is confident of the future.

100 PER CENT UNFIT

In 1912, when Justice Hughes was a member of the Supreme Court and was asked to become a candidate for President, he said:

"The man who on the highest judicial tribunal would consider another office is fit neither for the one he holds nor for the one to which he aspires."

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in tippyred bags, 5c; tippyred tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor—and that corking fine pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

Howard Cessna Makes Appeal and States His Platform.

To the Voters of Bedford County:—

I was born 46 years ago in Bedford County where I have always lived. My interests and hopes for good are with her people.

I gave 12 years of service in the practice of the law and since have been a farmer.

I have studied the wants and conditions of all classes of people with reference to their betterment and have addressed them on many occasions concerning the same.

My desire has been to serve my people in the legislature, feeling that my training and association fit me to help them.

I became a candidate on the Washington party ticket at the May primary, having been a supporter of progressive principles, with an understanding for fusion with myself as the candidate, which since then has been repudiated by others for reasons well known to those who control the situation in both the did parties on the legislative question, though Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Matt, both Democrats, became the beneficiaries of such.

I find it necessary now to address the voters in the present way. I therefore as the people's candidate for legislature—and I mean the people who consider their good as above mere party, and at a time when party questions in the state are subordinate to the great questions of social justice, industrial progress, and the individual betterment. My hopes are centered in doing good in official station for the farmer, the mechanic, the laborer, and all who yearn for honest government, lessened burdens, individual and social progress and efficient administration of public affairs.

My Platform Is This:

1st. Local option, whereby the people shall decide whether liquor shall be sold or not. The saloon is a menace to the home and the state—a source of political corruption and destruction of the people's happiness. No man can be for local option who has the visible support of the saloon.

2nd. Appropriations for the support of the government and charitable institutions within the limit of a just taxation to be equitably borne by all classes or objects of property.

3rd. A living wage, a just enforcement of the workmen's compensation law, and adequate protection to the destitute and dependent of the state.

4th. Co-operation with farmers' organizations through legislation and executive direction, making rural life more attractive and the returns of labor more remunerative.

One of my opponents, Mr. Smith, is an inexperienced youth of 26 years, the other, Mr. Barkman, is a newspaper editor.

I feel that my opportunities have qualified me to fill this station, and if you agree with me, I will thank you for your vote which would be in your own interest by making a cross (X) opposite the name of each Presidential elector of your party and each candidate for all other offices for which you desire to vote.

Very respectfully,

HOWARD CESSNA.

Adv. Frederick, Md., highschool took a vote on the Presidential candidate in which Wilson got 230 votes and Hughes 139. The G. O. P. Headquarters is alarmed over Ohio and Indiana, word having been sent from these states that a strong tide was going to Wilson.

Other Presidents than Wilson have talked about a square deal. Wilson has lived it.

You Want a Man "ON THE JOB" as CONGRESSMAN

If you hire a man in your private business you expect that he will stay "on the job."

When you send a man to represent you in Congress at Washington you expect that as your public servant he also will stay "on the job."

That, I believe, I have done during my terms of service as your Representative. I head the list of Pennsylvania Congressmen as having missed the fewest roll calls.

By your commission at the polls I have been attending to your business and attending to it faithfully.

I do not believe that you favor extravagance and therefore I have fought for economy in all departments of government.

I believe that you want this nation at peace with all the world. I have opposed any course that might embroil us with foreign nations.

Today we have peace and an abounding prosperity.

I believe I have served you well and I ask that you return me for another term at the Election Nov. 7.

HUGHES PAYS TRIBUTE

In one of his Maine speeches, Candidate Hughes said: "We've no idlers in this country worthy of the name. We have American men and women at work, 99 out of every one hundred."

How does Mr. Hughes square this utterance with his declaration that the policies of the Democratic party have created an army of unemployed?

Is not a fat pay envelope preferable to the Republican slogan of "an empty dinner pail?"

Mr. Hughes dislikes the federal banking and currency law which will prevent panics. He does not like the child-labor law that will prevent the dwarfing of the bodies and minds of boys and girls in the factories. He is against the eight-hour law which is so distasteful to the railroad managers. Apparently the only thing that he would like is to see Charles E. vasion Hughes president.

DEMAND FOR WORKERS GROWING

Comprehensive Survey Shows That in Practically Every Community in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Delaware, There is a Demand for Labor Beyond That Locally Available.

The United States Employment Service, whose offices in Philadelphia were recently transferred from the Keystone Building to Nos. 132-4-6 South Third Street, continues to find great difficulty in securing men in sufficient numbers to satisfy the wants of employers.

"There seems to be absolutely no let up in the demand for workers in almost every line of industry," according to Commissioner of Immigration, Elmer E. Greenwalt, under whose supervision the Federal Government's Employment Service is conducted in the States of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Delaware. "At the close of the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1916," continued the Commissioner, "by enlisting the co-operation of the city, borough and town clerks throughout the three states mentioned, which comprises what is designated as Zone 3 in the Government Employment Service, we completed a very interesting survey which shows that in practically every community within the borders of these three states there is a demand for labor beyond that locally available. During our last fiscal year we had calls from 1026 employers, who offered opportunities for 11,357 workers, covering many mechanical lines, ordinary laborers, farm hands and domestic help. Mine operators in the soft coal regions of Pennsylvania are advertising for union miners and we have active opportunities right now for at least 5000 miners and mine laborers. The demand for first class laborers at 23 cents an hour and upwards is practically unlimited. Our Pittsburgh office reports an unlimited demand for machinists. Open opportunities totaling upwards of a thousand are on file in our offices calling for boys over sixteen years of age, bricklayers, common laborers, domestics, factory hands, farm hands, hospital orderlies, hammer and chisel men, leather workers, iron molders, helpers and learners, machinists, miners and mine laborers, pottery workers, scrubbers and cleaners, solicitors and weavers.

During the month of September we placed 622 applicants, including blacksmiths, carpenters, chauffeurs, cranimen, clerks and accountants, domestics, electricians, factory workers, farm laborers, machinists, miners, patternmakers, plumbers, salesmen, tanners, bell boys, telegraph operators, trainmen, bakers, bus boys, chambermaids, cooks, cleaners, drivers, dishwashers, laundresses, nailers, sheet metal workers, polishers, stablemen, waiters and porters.

Our service is free and we find opportunities for labor at good wages so plentiful that it is utterly impossible to find enough idle workers to meet this ever growing demand. Employers who have called upon the United States Employment Service for help have found it a great convenience in securing efficient employees, and every possible effort is being made to improve and thoroughly systematize our work. Requests by mail, telephone, or in person, for help receive prompt attention and care is exercised to direct only persons qualified to fill the open positions."

In addition to the offices originally established by the United States Employment Service at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, another labor distributing agency, under the supervision of Commissioner Greenwalt, has been located at Wilmington, Del. At that point the work is conducted in co-operation with the municipality, and although the Wilmington branch has only been in operation since July 10, of this year, the results thus far accomplished are said to be entirely satisfactory. Negotiations for still further development of the federal labor distribution service through co-operative agreements with states and cities are actively under way with good prospects of their early completion, after which this branch of the government will be in a position to render still greater help to both employers and those seeking jobs.

A PAGE FOR HISTORY

The greatest boom in American railway stocks in years has followed the passage of the Federal eight-hour law for railway trainmen. Thus American railway history repeats itself.

Railway organs, it will be remembered, made the same fight against safety couplers, electric headlights, and the prohibition of passes and rebates. They invoked heaven and earth and their political henchmen to fight all these wholesome and necessary changes. And increased prosperity followed every reform.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY OFFICIAL ON INSPECTION TRIP

New Jersey State Consul Travels Road

Trenton, N. J.,—An inspection trip over the entire New Jersey section of the Lincoln Highway was recently made by Horace E. Fine, State Consul of the Lincoln Highway Association. Road conditions all along the way were found to be very good.

Mr. Fine reports that tourists are very enthusiastic over the Lincoln Highway drive across Pennsylvania to Pittsburgh. The roads and scenery are excellent, about 95 per cent of the Highway being practically a boulevard

TRAVELLERS FOR WILSON

Western Association Indorses President's Candidacy

Active steps for a state-wide campaign for the re-election of Woodrow Wilson, based upon his constructive administration of the past four years were taken Saturday evening when the Traveling Men's Wilson and Marshall Club met at the Lincoln Hotel. The club is the largest organization of its kind in the West and the enthusiasm displayed, the direct methods of laying plans and the number of live projects which were put on foot at the meeting is indicative of the efficient work which the club has been accomplishing throughout the state.

An emphatic and hearty resolution endorsing the re-election of President Wilson, praising him for his successful record and for the constructive laws, which were passed during his term in office, was adopted by the club.

Want to Lose Forty-eight Pounds of Fat?

The November Woman's Home Companion has a story about a woman who tells her personal experience in losing 48 pounds of flesh. She says: "When I started to 'get human,' dancing was in vogue, so I went to a dancing academy, paid an instructor to dance almost constantly with me for one hour daily. I fox-trotted and one-stepped at a pretty lively clip. It worked wonders with me.

Roller and ice skating are at present more modish, and even better. Horseback riding, tennis, any sport, or walking, can be substituted, each person having his pet aversion and diversions; individual choosing is best."

Schwab Tells How Andrew Carnegie Got His Start

In the November American Magazine, Charles M. Schwab says:

"Andrew Carnegie first attracted attention by using his head to think with. It was when he was a telegraph operator on the Pennsylvania Railroad under Colonel Thomas A. Scott. One morning a series of wrecks tangled up the line. Colonel Scott was absent and young Carnegie could not locate him. Things looked bad.

"Right then Carnegie disregarded one of the road's strictest rules and sent out a dozen telegrams signed with Colonel Scott's name, giving orders that would clear the blockade. "Young man, said the superintendent a few hours later, 'do you realize that you have broken this company's rules?'

"Well, Mr. Scott, aren't your tracks clear and your trains running?" asked the young telegrapher.

"Colonel Scott's punishment was to make Carnegie his private secretary. A few years later, when the colonel retired from office, he was succeeded by the former telegrapher, then only twenty-eight years old."

THE REUNION

From the Peoria, Ill., Journal (Taft and Roosevelt shook hands October 3.)

TEDDY.

I know you, Bill, you can't fool me. I've got your rotten pedigree. You are a horse-thief and a crook. I'm glad I handed you the hook. If I were president again, I'd see you safely in the pen.

BILL.

I've got your number, Theodore. As I have stated heretofore, You are a bluffer and a fake. You only rave and belly-ache. If I were president again, I'd throw you in the lion's den.

BOTH TOGETHER.

For manner's sake I shake your hand. But just for manners, understand. Perhaps if we can fool the mob, We BOTH may land an easy job.

WAR UNDER HUGHES OR

PEACE UNDER WILSON

(From President Woodrow Wilson's address to the Young Men's Democratic League, Sept. 30, 1916.)

There is only one choice as against peace and that is war. Some of the supporters of that party (Republican), a very great body of the supporters of that party, openly declare that they want war, so that the certain prospect of the success of the Republican Party is that we shall be drawn in one form or another into the embroilment of the European War, and that to the south of us the force of the United States will be used to produce in Mexico the kind of law and order which some American investors in Mexico consider most to their advantage.

"Hughes Finds Wilson Wanting." What makes it worse is that Hughes is wanting the same thing.—The Masses (New York.)

A FOOL'S "FOOL'S PARADISE"?

"Three iron and steel kings to date—Schwab, Farrell and Frick—dispute the assumption of Candidate Hughes that American supremacy in the world's steel supply is 'temporary,' or a 'fool's paradise,' or in any degree dependent upon war."

They look to the close of the war as creating a greater world market for American steel than war munitions afford. That the investing public backs their judgment is shown by the steady and continued rise in the values of industrial securities.

Really Not His Fault

The family were going to a picnic and Howard had been dressed first and told to sit on the porch until the rest were ready. Soon after his mother discovered him playing in the dirt with his clean clothes hopelessly ruined. After the painful scene which followed he was deposited forcibly on a chair and asked if he did not remember he had been told to stay on the porch and keep clean. "Yes," he sobbed, "but why didn't you tell somebody to watch me?"

Bedford County Lutheran Sunday School Convention

The Bedford County Sunday School Association met at Saxton, Pa., Tuesday and Wednesday, October 10 and 11, continuing four sessions. The convention was called to order by the President, Mr. F. E. Colvin, at 7:30 o'clock.

Five of the ten pastors of the County being present. A program, the keynote of which was "Preparedness in Sunday School work," and which was prepared by the executive committee was thoroughly discussed and many new suggestions were given for the delegates to carry back to their schools.

It is to be regretted that seven schools in the county neglected to send in their annual report, several reports having reached the Secretary two days after the convention closed.

There is a total enrollment of 1680 in the schools and an average attendance of 942. Five schools have reported a total of 21 organized classes.

The convention passed a resolution favoring class organization. It also recommended that the different schools pay the expenses of each of their delegates to the different conventions and placed their selves on record as favoring the continuation of our connection with the International Lesson System, and reaffirmed the action of previous sessions.

Whereby the offerings of the first Sunday of each month shall be given for benevolence.

The following officers were elected for the following ensuing year: President, F. E. Colvin, Bedford; Vice President, Wm. J. T. Anderson, Bedford, Rt. 2; Treasurer, W. W. Phillips, Bedford, Rt. 2; Secretary, Salinda Moses, Osterburg. The executive committee is composed of Rev. W. A. H. Streamer, Rev. Chas. Quinn, Rev. J. H. Zinn, D. D., H. E. Mason and Theo. Potts.

The next meeting will be held in Messiah Lutheran Church of St. Clairsville, which Rev. J. H. Zinn, D. D., is pastor, in October, 1917.

Will not the secretaries of the seven schools kindly mail to me the reports of your school so that a correct record may be kept of all our schools. We thank the good people of Saxton for their kind hospitality shown us and congratulate them upon their beautiful edifice so recently rededicated to God.

Respectfully Submitted,
Salinda Moses, Secy., Osterburg, Pa.

There is a Real Difference

Cream of tartar, derived from grapes, is used in Royal Baking Powder because it is the best and most healthful ingredient known for the purpose.

Phosphate and alum, which are derived from mineral sources, are used in some baking powders, instead of cream of tartar, because they are cheaper.

If you have been induced to use baking powders made from alum or phosphate, use Royal Baking Powder instead. You will be pleased with the results and the difference in the quality of the food.
